

REPROCESSING by the NUMBERS

Why It Makes Good Sense For Hospitals To Use
Reprocessed Medical Devices.

The regulated, professional medical device reprocessing industry has grown substantially. While reprocessors saved their hospital and surgical center partners $20 million in 1999, the number grew to $471 million by 2018—more than doubling savings every year for 20 years. In 2018, over 8,000 hospitals and surgical centers in the United States, Canada and Europe partnered with commercial reprocessors.
